This year's little gem....

Well I might be a little biased but in my eyes this Riesling is a treat - with the accolades of the past few years for the Stringy Brae Riesling it's become an even bigger anticipated event seeing the final wine in the bottle ready for release.

This year's has not disappointed one bit. The typical Clare Valley hot summer days and cool autumn nights and Sevenhills' terroir have worked their magic again to produce yet another outstanding Stringy Brae Riesling with a wonderful aroma of neroli (delicate orange blossom)

This one is just heavenly with fresh oysters, grilled fish or fresh peeled prawns although we've had quite a few comments that all it needs is an empty glass! It should age well over the next 10 years but most will find it hard to resist now!

Feel free to drop me an email if you would like a sample, or pop into Waldie's Shed - Cellar Door next time you are in the Clare Valley.

Cheers

Hannah
